

The introduction is really start to work much more smoothly – good – this sounds professional

To being with . . . - You need the signal to take you out of the agenda

I'm hearing signals – first, second . . . Yes good

Let turn to Raven . . .

but before

closing signal needed

then turn to changing presenter (Next Raven will continue the presentation)

Since you are business student you need to narrow and focus this vast market e.g., which countries do you want to enter?

young people with high growth potential = since young people are interested in sport this market has significant growth potential

Fit the pictures to the topic – Penny-farthing is not a great fit here!

You could align advantages / disadvantage to market (country) selection

Good – few words on the slide but . . .

ANIMATE

Good conclusion – but summarize key points from earlier
